IMC Golden Helm Awards

DARREN REEVES WINNER OF THE IMC GOLDEN HELM AWARDS 2014

International Maritime Club Golden Helm Excellence Awards 2014

"International Maritime Club (IMC) hosted its first ever IMC Golden Helm Excellence Awards 2014 (Middle East) at Emirates International Maritime Academy (EIMA), Dubai on 24th May 2014.

The award ceremony honoured the prominent names in the Maritime, Oil & Gas and Offshore industry who have been leading their way to improve the maritime sector in the Middle East to celebrate the essence of true talent and merit.

The nominations for the awards were received from various sectors of the maritime industry and were reviewed by the IMC panel of judges. The awards were purely based on individual merits and their personal contribution for furthering the developments in the maritime industry.

The IMC golden Helm Award for Excellence in Maritime Services was presented to Capt. Abdul Wahab Mohammed A Diwani, Director of Marine Transport Affairs, National Transport Authority, Darren Reeves, General Manager, Stanford Marine, and other key managers in the maritime services industry.

International Maritime Club (IMC) is a non-profit organization which works for the conscious and continuous development of the vast maritime industry.

It is a platform where professionals from various sectors of the maritime industry come together under one roof to exchange knowledge and ideas on the maritime trade and industry.

Currently, IMC is associated with more than 200 maritime organizations across the globe. More details on club can be found on its website www.internationalmaritimeclub.com "

CHARTERING DESK

STANFORD HAWK, STANFORD MAYA, STANFORD SEAL AND MANY MORE VESSELS ALL ON CHARTER WITH DIFFERENT CLIENTS.

2014 started off well with the entry of "Stanford Hawk" into Angola to commence her 5 year contract with Total Angola. Various short term and long term contracts were secured in the Q1, keeping the fleet busy and maintaining high utilization rates.

Stanford Hawk 75M Platform Supply Vessel (PSV)

Ark Oslo secured a 2 year contract from Carigali HESS strengthening Stanford's foothold in the Southeast Asian market. Ark Oslo is a 58M, 68T BP, DP1 Anchor Handling Tug / Supply vessel and will be supporting the charterer's activities in Malaysia.

Fast crew boats continue to be in great demand.; Firecrest secured 8 months contract in Iraq and Stanford Dove & Stanford Maya secured medium term charter with McDermott supporting their project in Saudi Arabia.

Stanford Maya 42M Crew Boat

Stanford Seal 38M Anchor Handling Tug (AHT)

NPCC awarded 11 months contract for Stanford Seal (38M, 59T BP, AHT) to support its operations in Abu Dhabi and extended the existing contracts of Stanford Bream and Waha Mermaid for 1 year each.

Stanford Hunter, 57M, 3800BHP Multi-purpose Vessel has been supporting e-marine's activities in Abu Dhabi since January 2014. As for Stanford Gold she secured 1 month charter with Esnaad upon release from her long term charter in Abu Dhabi.

Many existing contracts were extended during the first quarter: 6 months extension by BG for Stanford Buzzard, 5 months extension by L&T for Stanford Condor, 90 days extension by Technip for Stanford Pelican, 6 months extension by NMDC for both Stanford Provider and Global King and last but not least 90 days extension by McDermott for all of Stanford Swan, Swift and Global Falcon.

Cross chartered vessels "Allianz Ariston" and Tanzanite secured medium term and short term charter respectively from McDermott.

HEALTH, SAFETY and ENVIRONMENT

A QUICK REVIEW ON HSEQ'S PROGRESS AND HAPPENINGS.

In 2014 the HSEQ Department is beginning a complete revision of the Vessel Safety Management System. This has begun in conjunction with the development of the internal learning management system with Experion.

Unfortunately we have had our first LTI since 2009. A crew member suffered a minor injury but was not able to return to work within 24hours due the nature of vessel operations. While it was classed as an LTI incident the injury was actually a first aid case considering the treatment received.

A highlight of Q1 was Stanford Marine's Gold sponsorship of the IMCA Safety and Environment Seminar in Houston Texas. The Seminar emphasized opportunities and exposures in the Marine Industry. The event was attended by many industry leaders including, Shell and Saipem. As members of IMCA, sponsorship and participation in such events is important in order to raise the profile of the company to new audiences. Membership also gives us the opportunity to openly communicate on issues which affect us and our industry peers. Sharing experience and knowledge allows us all to develop and improve our safety practices.
